Action line

Q — I have not received a book I requested and paid for. I sent my request with a check on June 5 to the Tribune Public Service Department. The book is haved on a series of articles about American cities that ran in The Tribune in the spring. My check for $10.95 ($2.95 for the book and $1 for shipping and handling) was cashed. I have enclosed a photostatic copy of the canceled check. Please send the book as soon as possible.

Michael Raggio, Columbus, Ohio A — "Thank you for writing to my neighbors in Action Line," said Larry Townsend, director of The Tribune's Photo/ Graphics and Features Sales Division. "If the U.S. Postal Service had as good a group of detectives, your paid-for copy of 'The American City' would have been in your hands months ago. (We received several copies with mailing labels torn off in early June and have been able to send again to those who have shown a canceled check, as you so wisely did in your letter.) A copy of the book is being sent to you under separate cover."

Q — As a last recourse, I am turning to you because I can get no satisfaction from Magic Chef, Inc. In September, 1980, I took delivery of an $1,100 Magic Chef combination range, oven, and microwave oven. Hardly a month has gone by that the repairman has not been here to fix the microwave. Not only has it consistently broken down, but it also blows fuses continually. I run no other appliances, and even run around shutting off lights, yet it still does this. One time my daughter simply opened the door, and the unit let out a dying gasp. Two electricians assured me that I did not need a separate fuse for the unit. I wrote to the company president in June asking for a new unit since this obviously was a defective one. A month later, I got a letter saying we could have a new unit, and we would be contacted. No one had contacted me by the end of August, so I called the local office. No one responded to my messages. After two long-distance calls at my expense to the company president and public relations office, we were told that we would get a new unit within 10 days. We still don't have it, and I feel I have been more than patient. Can you help?

H. Wolkow, Glenwood

A - Magic Chef has arranged to ship a new microwave to a local service company, a company spokes-man said. He added that the service company will repair any functional problems with the range at time of installation of the new microwave.

– On July 6, 1979, I applied for citizenship. I was interviewed, and I passed. I paid the $25 fee. They told me that in two to six months they would notify me to take my oath. So I waited in vain all these months. I have enected several times, but they told me to walt became they could not find my papers. Please help me. I don't know how long I still have to wait.

Binning Hagan, Pales Hills

A — Your wait has finally ended; Joel Rogers, acting district director for the United States Department of Justice Immigration and Naturalization Service, 219 S. Dearborn St., Chicago, reported: "Our records disclose Dearborn St., Chicago, reported: "Our records disclose that Mr. Ilagan was naturalized September 29."

Is there any way I can get a new electric meter? My electric bill is three times higher than any of my neighbors. I have a three-bedroom home, and my bill averages $150 per month. My neighbor has the same size house, and his bill is around $45. I feel there is something wrong here. I would appreciate any help you could give me.

John S., Monee, Ill. A - Commonwealth-Edison, after we sent our letter along with yours, reported it had found the problem in an electrical water pump. Gerard van Noordennen, its public affairs spokesman, said, "Increase in consumption was due to cracked well pipe, causing pump to run continuously. He is satisfied with our investigation."

Sound off

If the manufacturers want to give us rebates on their products, let them do so at the retail stores. If not, let them shut up and forever hold their peace. At my neighborhood store, rebates were being offered on pork and beans and on tuna. Purchasers were to send in three labels and a completed rebate form. The forms were nowhere in sight, so I asked at the checkout counter. I was told they were fresh out (the story of my life). To add insult to injury, they never did get a new supply. We gullible shoppers bought the products when, believe it or not, we could have got both items cheaper elsewhere even without the rebate. I, for one, will never buy anything if I have to mail in for a rebate. Who eise feels the same?

M. Bacon, Chicago

Action Line answers questions, solves problems and cuts red tape. We cannot, however, appraise or shop for items. You may write us at 435 N. Michigan Av., Chicago, III. 60611. Include your telephone number and two stamped envelopes, one addressed to the firm involved in your problem and the other to

1st Ko in woi

Korchno

Karpov (

6th gan

MERANO, Italy (AP

Thursday of the wor Soviet Anatoly Karp exile. The moves a letters represent the b-bishop. [Pawn mc

Kerpov Korchnol

2.nl3 ... nc6

4. ba4 nf6

5.0-0 n:e4

7.bb3 d5

9.c3 bc5

11. bo2 b/5 12. nb3 bg6

13. ntd4. . . . b:d4

(Karpov Friday res

Chicago Tribune Graphi

8.d:e5....

10, nbd2

3.bb5

1.64 ...

... е5

3

MERANO, Italy back-from three his effort to wres val, Anatoly Kar

Karpov, playir journed sixth gar

The first playe $260,000 prize m pov now leads th 1; two games scheduled for S

The sixth gar Thursday evenii major blunder missed a chance could later three bishop.

"KARPOV WO if he'd made the United States seconds.

Korchroi, 50, the title for the three years ag match.

Drug crusade a ruse, state alleges

By Jack Houston

ILLINOIS ATTY. GEN. Tyrone Fahner filed a lawsuit Friday charging two groups linked to political maverick Lyndon LaRouche with using an antidrug crusade as a ruse to solicit contributions for political causes.

In the suit, filed in Cook County Circuit Court, Fahner charged that the Illinois Anti-drug Coalition, 116 S. Michigan Av., the New York-based National Anti-drug Coalition, and five of their officers violated the Illinois Charitable Trust and the Illinois Solicitation acts.

He charged the groups failed to account for charitable funds and to appropriately register as charitable trusts when asked to do so by Fahner's office.

Fahner asks the court to order liquidation of the charitable assets of the defendants and to enjoin the groups from soliciting in Illinois.

"We cannot condone the actions of any group that would use the fear of drug abuse to mislead contributors into giving money which may end up being used for purposes other than drug abuse programs," Fahner

Leo Scanlon, a spokesman for the Illinois group, called Fahner's suit "a fraud" and "a form of harassment!" He said his group denied "each and every allegation" in the suit. "We have compiled with every request for financial information."

RECENT NEWSPAPER accounts have charged that the New York group and several other groups and publications are serving as a funding arm for LaRduche, who ran for president in 1980 on the U.S. Labor Party ticket.

A spokesman for Fahner said his office had received numerous complaints from persons who believed they had been misled and feared their donations were being used by the U.S. Labor Party.

The suit alleges that both the New York and Illinois groups have received donations from Illinois residents who thought their money would be used to "educate the public on the danger of drugs, sponsor studies in combating drug abuse," and further "scientific, educational, and charitable purposes."

Q - I have not received a book I reque for i sent my request with a check on June 5 to Tribune Public Service Department. The book is be on a series of articles about American cities that ran The Tribune in the spring, My check for $10.95 @0.95 for the book and $1 for shipping and handling) was cashed. I have enclosed a photostatic copy of the canceled check. Please send the book as soon as possible.

Michael Raggio, Columbus, Ohlo A — "Thank you for writing to my neighbors in Action Line," said Larry Townsend director of The Tribune's Photo/Graphics and Features Sales Division. "If the U.S. Postal Service had as good a group of detectives, your paid-for copy of 'The American City' would have been in your hands months ago. (We received several copies with mailing labels torn off in early June and have been able to send again to those who have shown a canceled check, as you so wisely did in your letter.) A copy of the book is being sent to you under separate cover,"

Q — As a last recourse, I am turning to you because I can get no satisfaction from Magic Chef. Inc. In September, 1980, I took delivery of an $1,100 Magic Chef combination range, oven, and interowave oven Hardly a month has gone by that the repairman has not been here to fix the microwave. Not only has it consistently broken down, but it also blows fuses continually. I run no other appliances, and even run around shutting off lights, yet it still does this. One time my daughter simply opened the door, and the unit let out a dying gasp. Two electricians, assured me that I did not need a separate fine for the unit. I wrote to the company president in June asking for a new unit since this obviously was a defective one. A month later, I got a letter saying we could have a new unit, and we would be contacted. No one had contacted me by the end of August, so I called the local office. No one responded to my messages. After two long-distance calls at my expense to the company president and public relations office, we were told that we would get a new unit within 10 days. We still don't have it, and I feel I have been more than patient. Can you help?
H. Wolkow Glenwood

A - Magic Chef has arranged to ship a new microwave to a local service company; a company spokes-man said. He added that the service company will repair any functional problems with the range at time of installation of the new microwave.

– On July 6, 1979, I applied for citizenship. I was interviewed, and I passed. I paid the $25 fee. They told me that in two to six months they would notify me to take my oath. So I waited in vain all these months. I ouse they could not find my papers. Pleas n'i know haw long I still have to wait

Edmunde Hagab, Palos Bills
A.—Your wait has finally ended, Joel Rogers, acting district director for the United States Department of Justice, Immigration and Naturalization Service, 219 S.
Dearborn St., Chicago, renorted: "Our records disclose that Mr. Hagan was naturalized September 23."

Q — Is there any way I can get a new electric meter? My electric bill is three times higher than any of my neighbors. I have a three-bedroom home, and my bill averages $150 per month. My neighbor has the same size bouse, and his bill is around $45. I feel there is something wrong here. I would appreciate any help you could give me.

John S., Monee, Ill. Commonwealth-Edison, after we sent our letter A Commonwealth Edison, attended the problem in along with yours, reported it had found the problem in Noordennen, its an electrical water pump. Gerard van Noordenneit, its public affairs spokesman, said, "Increase in consump-tion was due to cracked well pipe, causing pump to run continuously. He is satisfied with our investigation."

Sound off

If the manufacturers want to give us rebates on their products, let them do so at the retail stores. If not, let them shut up and forever hold their peace. At my neighborhood store, rebates were being offered on pork and teans and on tuna. Purchasers were to send in three labels and a completed rebate form. The forms were nowhere in sight, so I asked at the checkout counter. I was told they were fresh out (the story of my life). To add insult to injury, they never did get a new supply. We gullible shoppers bought the products when, believe it or not, we could have got both items cheaper elsewhere even without the rebate. I, for one, will never buy anything if I have to mail in for a rebate. Who else feels the same?

M. Bacon, Chicago

Action Line answers questions, solves problems and cuts restape. We cannot, however, appraise or shop for its ms. You may write us at 435 N. Michigan Av., Chicago: Illi 606 1: Include your telephone number and two stamped envelopes, one addressed to the firm involved in your problem and the other to yourself.

1st Ke

Corchac

Karpov

ERANO, Italy (A hunday of th Soviet Anatoly Kar e. The moves etters represent th b-bishop. [Pawn m

Karpov Korchnei Plack

2.n/3 nc6 3.bb5 a6

4.ba4nf6 5.0-0n:e4

8.d:e5..... be6

(Karpov Friday re:

Chicago Tribuna Graph

ba6

White 1.04

7.bb3

9.c3 .

10. nbd2 11.6c2 12.nb3

5

MERANO, Ital back-from three his effort to wre val, Anatoly Kar

Karpov, playi journed sixth ga

The first play $260,000 prize m pov now leads t 1; two games scheduled for S

The sixth ga Thursday eveni major blunder missed a chance could later thre bishop.

"KARPOV W if he'd made the United States seconds.

> Korchroi, 50, the title for the three years ag match.

Drug crusade a ruse, state alleges

By Jack Houston

ILLINOIS ATTY. GEN. Tyrone Fahner filed a lawsuit Friday charging two groups linked to political maverick Lyndon LaRouche with using an antidrug crusade as a ruse to solicit contributions for political causes.

In the suit, filed in Cook County Circuit Court, Fahner charged that the Illinois Anti-drug Coalition, 116 S. Michigan Av., the New York-based National Anti-drug Coalition, and five of their officers violated the Illinois Charitable Trust and the Illinois Solicitation acts.

He charged the groups failed to account for charitable funds and to appropriately register as charitable trusts when asked to do so by Fahner's office.

Fahner asks the court to order liquidation of the charitable assets of the defendants and to enjoin the groups from soliciting in Illinois.

"We cannot condone the actions of any group that would use the fear of drug abuse to mislead contributors into giving money which may end up being used for purposes other than drug abuse programs," Fahner

Lee Scanlon, a spokesman for the Illinois group, called Fahner's suit "a fraud" and "a form of harassment" He said his group denied "each and every allegation" in the suit. "We have compiled with every request for financial information."

RECENT NEWSPAPER accounts have charged that the New York group and several other groups and publications are serving as a funding arm for LaRquiche, who ran for president in 1980 on the U.S. Labor Party ticket.

A spokesman for Fahner said his office had received numerous complaints from persons who believed they had been misled and feared their donations were being used by the U.S. Labor Party.

The suit tilleges that both the New-York and Illinois groups have received donations from Illinois residents who thought their money would be used to "educate the public on the danger of drugs, sponsor studies in combating drug abuse," and further "scientific, educational, and charitable purposes."